

About Us

Honeymoon Holidays part of Net holidays an independent travel agent that is ATOL protected offering great internet holidays and internet flights. Our services consist of internet holidays, flights and accommodation based on your holiday requirements. As a customer we will find you the best internet flights and internet holidays using are large supplier database that consist of airlines, hotels, and holiday operators.

We believe in offering our customers a personalised service so when you contact us we will research your requirements and provide you with the best deal to suit your needs. If you have various dates in mind or are even undecided on a location our experienced sales consultants can find out specific information for you on hotels, flights and destinations.

All our consultant are highly trained and have extensive knowledge of the travel industry to give you an independent and unbiased advise on your holiday options as we not linked to particularly airline or travel agent and have your best interest at heart.

We hope you enjoy using our service and don't forget to view our special for the latest holiday deals.